

As we endeavour to achieve our ambitious sustainability goals, we are fully committed to protecting the environment through demonstrating rigorous standards of environmental responsibility in all our operations, while minimising the environmental impacts associated with our activities, products, and services. We recognise the importance of adopting best practice as we move to reduce our carbon emissions to achieve Net Zero.

Our approach is based on:

- legislative compliance and demonstration of best management practice using approved, registered contractors for all our waste management needs.
- adoption of a waste-hierarchy approach to the elimination of waste by focusing on, in order of preference: prevention; education; re-use; recycling; recovery; disposal.
- encouragement of a circular economy approach that keeps resources in use for as long as possible, extracting the maximum value from them whilst in use, then facilitating the recovery and regeneration of products and materials at the end of their life.
- approach to waste elimination that supports our net zero strategy and our target to reach Net Zero GHG emissions across the value chain by 2050.
- understanding of strategic decisions and operational practices that impact on waste generation and the design, implementation and review of procedures and programmes to address them.
- measurement, monitoring, analysis and reporting of waste generation and used waste destinations.
- investment of appropriate resources to minimise waste, based on best available techniques.
- working with our supply chain to measure and minimise waste associated with products and services provision.
- implementing, maintaining, and communicating this policy across the company and making it available to interested parties.
- training and communication for staff to increase awareness, understanding and technical knowledge to reduce and manage waste.
- Investigating and assessing the possibility of the recovery and repurposing of waste material generated.
- Maximising the amount of waste which may be “designed out” of our processes.

This policy will ensure compliance with all applicable waste management legislation across the regions we operate in.

This policy will be communicated to all Stakeholders and reviewed periodically by our Board of Directors to ensure that it meets the specific needs of the business.

Signed
